Come One, Come All to
Fire & Rescue's Public Safety Expo
In Celebration of Fire Prevention Week

This year's Fire Prevention Week is Sunday, October 6th through Saturday, October 12th. In years past, the Prince William County Fire & Rescue System (PWCFRS) has invited the public to celebrate Fire Prevention Week (FPW) during our Open House held at various fire and rescue stations throughout the county; that tradition will continue, however, this year, we decided to do something a little different and host an additional special event in honor of Fire Prevention Week. Hence, the initiation of the PWCFRS' All County Public Safety Expo.

This festive event will encompass various public safety agencies and organizations across the county and region to include Manassas City, Manassas Park, Quantico, Haymarket, Occoquan, and Dumfries; these are just a few of the neighboring jurisdictions participating in this extraordinary event. Public safety agencies will have the opportunity to display various vehicles/apparatus including their more unique, technical pieces that are rarely seen by the public. In addition, the event will provide a variety of exhibitors to include local county and community agencies, interactive activities, music entertainment and food trucks. This free family-friendly event will provide vital information and resources for all ages, in an effort, to keep our communities, residents, and visitors informed, educated and safe.

You won't want to miss this spectacular event:
