Prince William 4-H Cloverbud Club

Saturday was a gorgeous fall day for our Prince William 4-H Cloverbuds to explore the science of sound waves! Two Prince William 4-H teen counselors volunteered to lead the activities and share their knowledge and skill with music. The 13 Cloverbuds and their families began the meeting by practicing the Pledge of Allegiance and the 4-H Pledge. Cloverbuds shared a few of their favorite things as an icebreaker outside before heading in to make a pan flute out of plastic straws. We watched our sound waves move the extra straw pieces across the table with enthusiastic flute playing! We went back outside to learn about music notes by playing the boomwhackers. Cloverbuds had an amazing time with our hands-on activities, and snacking on mandarin oranges and popcorn!
